

Chronological Summary of Collected Yellow-billed Cuckoo (Coccyzus americanus)

Carcasses, or Portions of Carcasses

(via ground surface from within the Nesting Salt Lake City Peregrine Falcon Territory)

06/27/86 head only collected by R. Walters in downtown Salt Lake City (SLC), Salt Lake County – taken by peregrines, identified by Dr. Clayton White

07/07/86 carcass, or portion of, collected by R. Walters in downtown SLC – taken by peregrines, identified by Dr. Clayton White

07/29/87 carcass, or portion of, collected by R. Walters in downtown SLC – taken by peregrines, identified by Dr. Clayton White

08/05/87 carcass, or portion of, collected by R. Walters in downtown SLC – taken by peregrines, identified by Dr. Clayton White

06/10/88 carcass collected by R. Walters from below the former Key Bank Tower (that once stood next to Crossroads Plaza Mall) in downtown SLC – taken by peregrines (carcass donated to Brigham Young University)

06/26/88 carcass collected by R. Walters from below the southeast corner of the Joseph Smith Memorial Building (former Hotel Utah) in downtown SLC – taken by peregrines and unsuccessfully employed by adult female to entice unfledged juvenile from roofline on previous day (carcass donated to Brigham Young University)

07/07/93 wing only collected by R. Walters from below the former Key Bank tower (that once stood next to the Crossroads Plaza Mall) in downtown SLC – taken by peregrines

07/05/14 head (only) collected by R. Walters below the Key Bank Tower sign on the east face of the Tower on the southwest corner of South Temple and State streets in downtown SLC – taken by peregrines (tail feathers, first noticed, protruding from on top of one of the letters on the sign, on the previous day, were unfortunately, not secured), head retained in storage in Division of Wildlife Resources' Salt Lake Office freezer

Robert Walters
January 19, 2016